Notes on Church Life

You're Invited Back to Church: In their meeting this week, Calvary's deacons decided that we will invite our church family to return to in-person worship and Bible study on Sunday, January 17. For the time being, we will continue to have only one worship service, which will take place at 9 o'clock and which will also be shared on Facebook. Our Sunday School classes will begin after worship. And there will be childcare for both Sunday morning activities.

Of course, the coronavirus continues to be genuine concern in our area. And so, we urge everyone to make their own determination whether it's safe for them to be back in church. In addition, we want you to know that as we return to in-person gathering, social distancing will be practiced, and everyone will be asked to wear a mask while they're in the church building.

If you have any questions about our Sunday morning schedule or other ministries, please contact the church office.
